NEVADA CITY, July 10.—Electrification of the mountain division of the Southern Pacific railroad, talked of for many months, took definite shape today when C. S. Curtis, of the engineering department filed an application with Forest Supervisor Bigelow for permits to build power plants on lands within the government forest reserve in Sierra county. According to the maps and plans water is to be carried by flumes and canals from the North Yuba river to a point below Sierra City, where the in-take of the Sierra county system will be located, to the site of the main powerhouse below Downville.

Permits for the construction of power plants along the Rubicon river behind Lake Tahoe have been obtained from the government in the name of the Rubicon Water and Power company, said to be a subsidiary company of the railroad. The first power plant will be located at Hales Camp in northern Eldorado county; the second on the banks of the Rubicon. When the power system is completed it is the plan of the company to displace steam as the motive power on the mountain division in favor of electricity. The first order given by the Southern Pacific for electrical appliances in connection with this project has already been placed, it is stated, to an amount of $13,000,000, which is the largest individual order of a similar nature ever given in this country. The present project only contemplates the electrification of that portion of the road across the summit of the Sierra Nevada mountains.

BOXING MATCH.

Tonight at the Big Casino, Sid Humphries and Burt Murry will engage in another boxing match to determine who is superior in the game. Attempt Made To Rob Tonopah Postoffice Last Night

An attempt to rob the United States postoffice in this city was frustrated last night at 10:15 o'clock by the arrival of two prominent citizens of Tonopah upon the scene while the would-be burglar was in the act of breaking into the building.

Henry Schmidt, manager of the Sullivan company's store in this city, and Tom Lindsay, manager for the firm of McLean and McSweeney, dropped into the postoffice at the hour mentioned for the purpose of depositing some letters in the box. While there their attention was attracted to a peculiar noise in the rear of the building. Schmidt said to Lindsay that he believed there was something wrong back there, and together they went to investigate. The lights in the mailing department had been turned out and where Mr. Schmidt and Mr. Lindsay then stood all was dark. The former suggested to the latter that he go to the front of the office building and ascertain if anyone was in there, while he would remain where he was. It was his opinion that someone was in the building at the time tampering with the safe.

SHOT RINGS OUT.

As soon as Mr. Lindsay had departed a man rushed from beneath the back stairway and passed Mr. Schmidt. He yelled to the fellow to stop, which command the man refused to obey. Schmidt followed in pursuit, but was brought to a sudden stop in the chase by a shot fired by the man who had been attempting to force an entrance into the rear office. Whether or not the man attempted to hit Mr. Schmidt he alone knows.

SCHMIDT CALLS POLICE.

Mr. Schmidt and Mr. Lindsay then informed the police of what had been going on. An investigation of the rear end of the building showed that the screen had been torn from the window and that one of the panes had been broken, through which the burglar evidently would have gained admission. There were no evidences left by which the man might be apprehended.

ARREST FOLLOWS.

Chief of Police Malley started to work at once on the case. He and his force made a tour of "dark town" in an effort to locate the malefactor. Behind the building formerly occupied by "Devil" George Davis, the chief saw the figure of a man. He commanded him to throw up his hands which he did with alacrity. A search of the man showed that he possessed two fimmies and a .32 Smith and Wesson revolver from which one shot had been fired.

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE.

At the office of the chief of police the individual refused to divulge his name. When questioned concerning the presence of the fimmies and the gun on his person, he stated that he had just picked them up. Circumstantial evidence seems to point to the man as the guilty party. He was placed in the city jail to await further developments.

STRANGER HERE.

The man now in custody is apparently a stranger to this city. No one could be found who knew him, although a great many people saw him following the arrest. He is quite well dressed and of small stature. He does not look like a common hobo, although a few who saw him believe he is addicted to some drug habit.

Mr. Schmidt is of the opinion that he is the man who fired the shot at him. While he is not decidedly positive in identification, he says he greatly resembles the person who was trying to get away with some of Uncle Sam's coin.

MUCH MONEY IN SAFE.

Postmaster Stewart was out of the city at the time of the attempted robbery, consequently it could not be learned whether or not there was any great sum in the safe. However, yesterday being payday, and many money orders having been issued, it is quite reasonable to believe that the safe contained a large amount of currency.

FEDERAL OFFENSE.

The attempted burglary under the circumstances is a federal offense. It is up to the government authorities to take charge of the case as well as the prisoner. Postoffice Inspector Swain, who is located at Reno, was communicated with. He informed the local authorities to hold the man and a warrant would follow. The government will at once set its machinery in motion in an endeavor to connect the prisoner with the offense.

Bryan Would Have the Democrats Act at Once

(By Associated Press.)

LINCOLN (Neb.), July 10.—Bryan in a statement made public yesterday on the income tax amendment stated that the Democratic platform in 1908 contained an income tax plank; that he endorsed the plank and urged the necessity of a constitutional amendment. Taft in his acceptance speech insisted that the amendment was unnecessary, says Bryan. When the president sent his message to congress proposing a submission of the income tax amendment it was passed by the senate by the unanimous vote of seventy-seven ayes, nays none. Democratic governors in states having Democratic legislatures ought to call an extra session at once to secure an immediate ratification of the amendment. Income tax clubs ought to be formed immediately to pledge the members of the various legislatures to vote for a ratification. Now is the time to act—says Bryan.
